BUILDING

P4M

Phoenix4Marketing (P4M) is an automated, AI-driven partner engagement and e-commerce web platform developed by Code 95, enabling partners to manage accounts, purchase products, track commissions, and join training events through a unified interface.

57357

Code 95 developed the 57357 mobile application as a dedicated digital platform designed to support patients and their families throughout the treatment journey. The app enables patients to easily track their medical appointments, treatment roadmap, and progress, lab results and imaging results while providing child-friendly educational and supportive content.

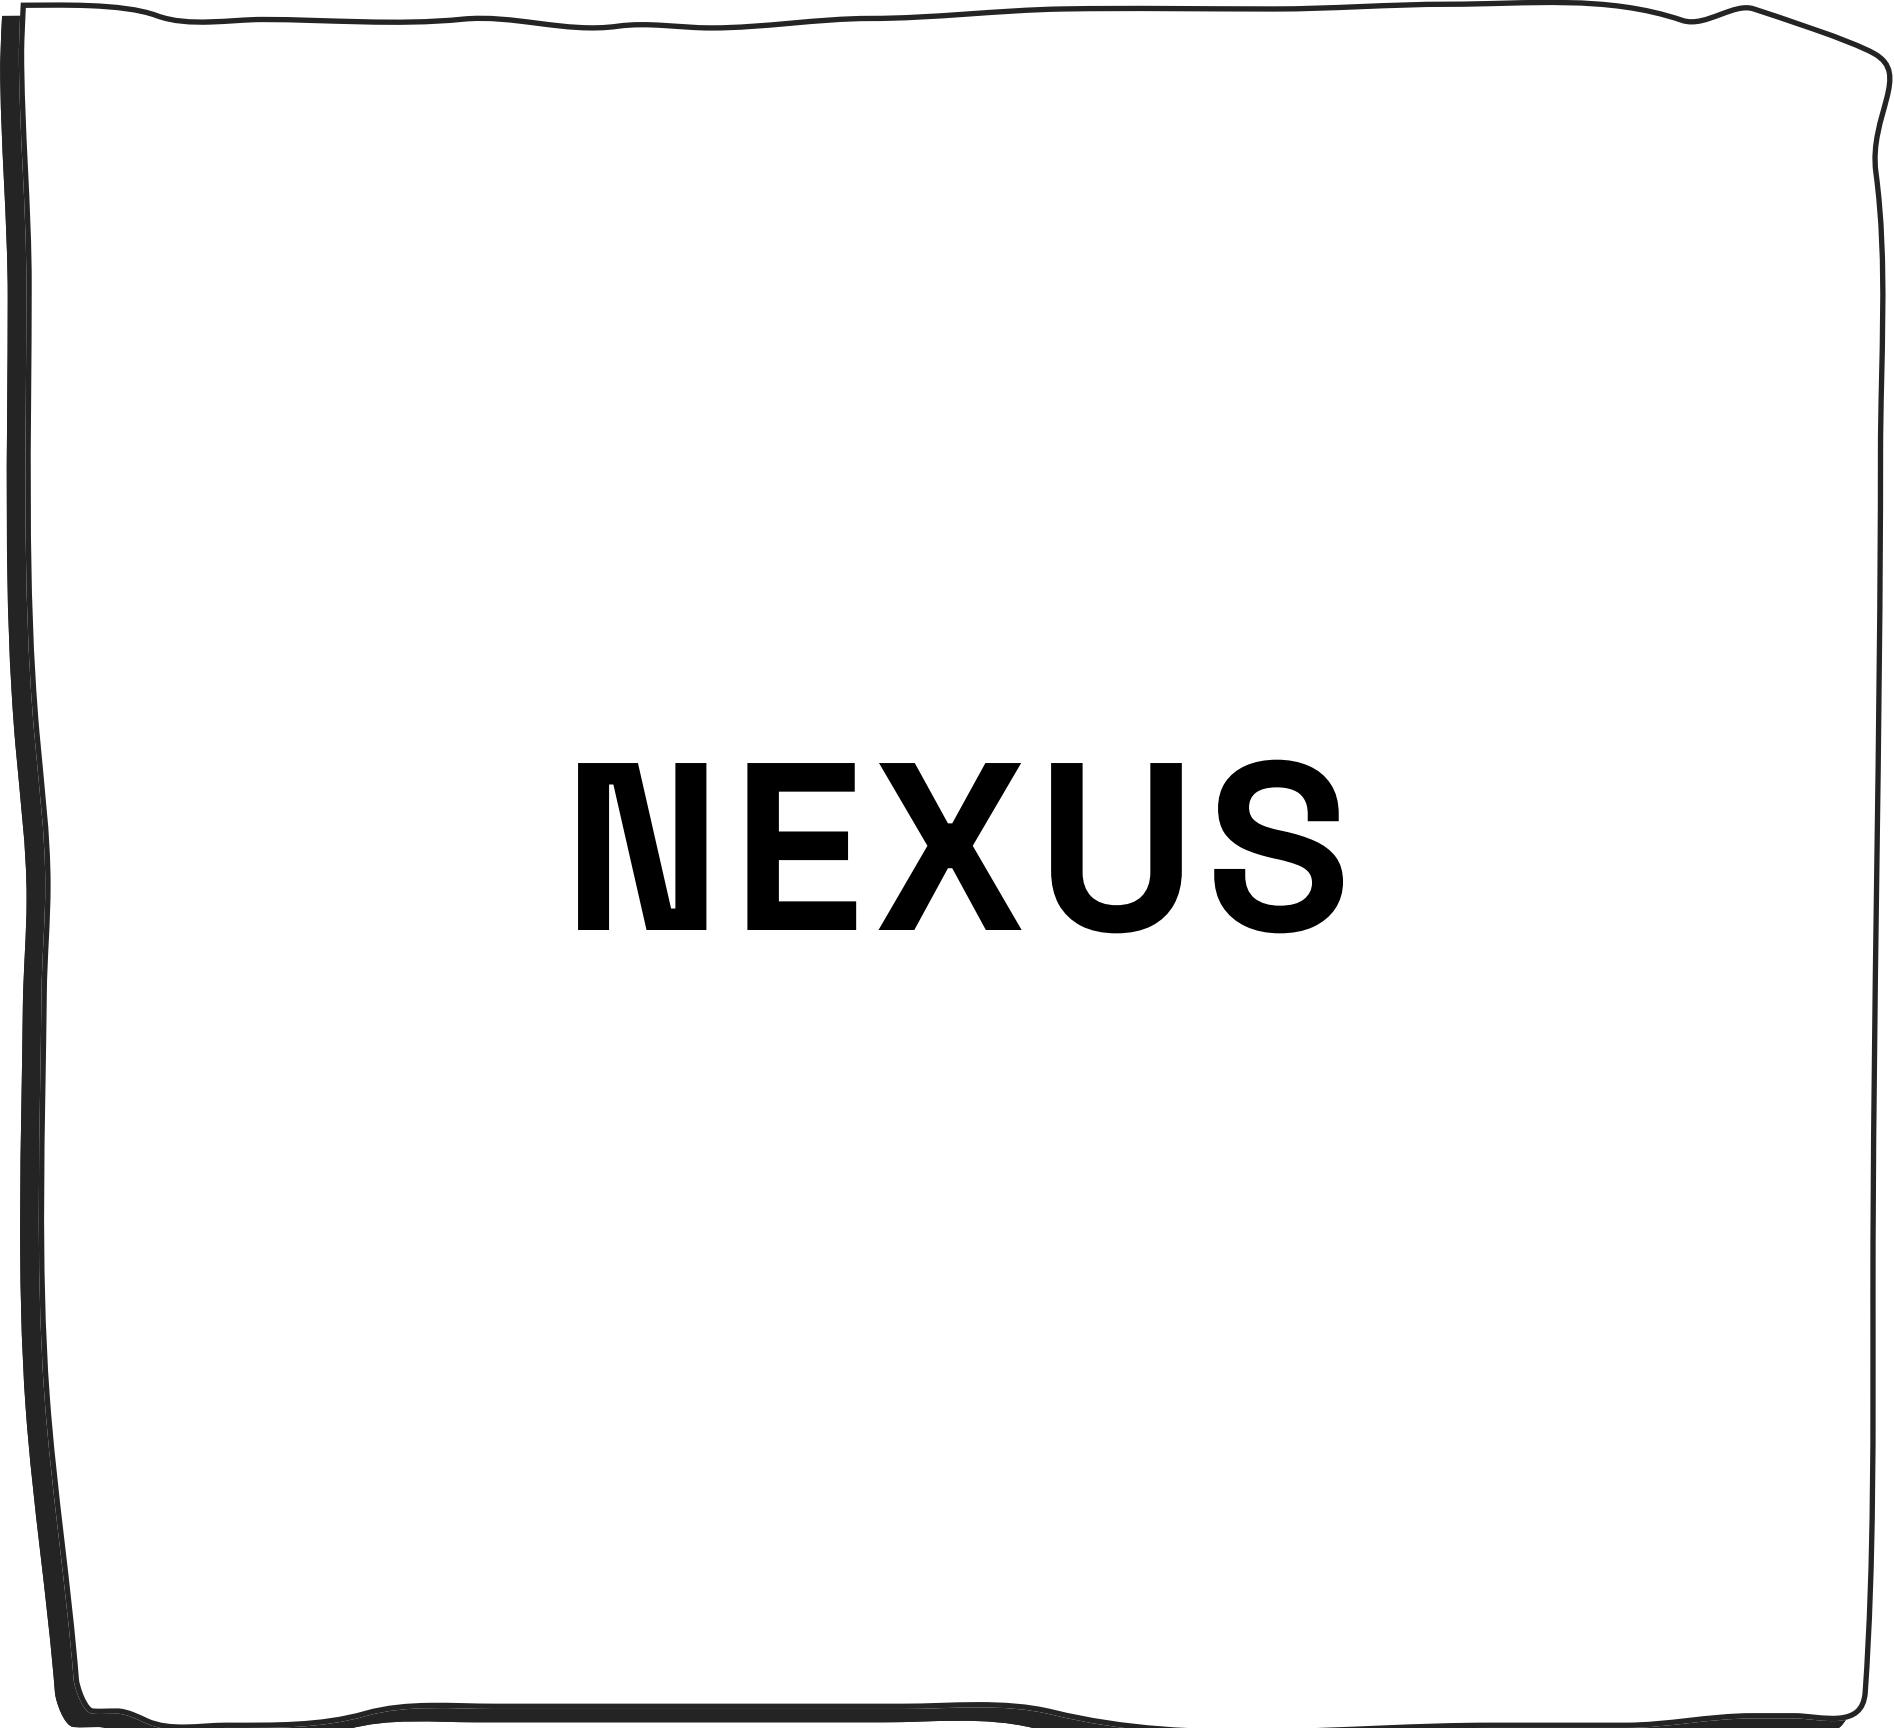

SAILOR BAY (MARINE X)

Code95 developed MarineX, a specialized maritime ecosystem featuring a comprehensive web platform for both seafarers and companies. The website enables seafarers to apply for jobs, enroll in professional courses, and purchase industry products, while allowing companies to post vacancies and manage their own product sales. We extended this experience to a dedicated mobile app, ensuring seafarers have seamless access to career, educational, and commercial resources on the go. To provide ultimate flexibility, we implemented a Laravel Nova admin panel that empowers the team to manage dynamic layouts, custom forms, and complex maritime data with ease.

NEXUS

Code95 is developing PhysioSynergy Nexus, a centralized multi-tenant platform that empowers CoB to manage independent healthcare facilities with flexible, granular access controls. The system features a flexible user-permission engine, allowing for the creation of customized roles to ensure secure data handling across all user groups. To modernize the clinical workflow, we integrated AI-powered patient triage and automated medical note generation, alongside a native Telehealth suite for seamless remote consultations. The core of the project is a Centralized API Hub, which synchronizes accounting, insurance claims, and device-generated health data to create a fully automated and interoperable healthcare environment
